Art Unit: 2652

1. Applicant's election without traverse of the invention of Group I and the species of figure 3, stating claims 1-5 to read thereon, in the reply filed on 12/30/04 is acknowledged.

2. Claims 6-13 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention/species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 12/30/04.

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by SAITHO et al (6,597,543).

Note the embodiment of figure 10(b). SAITHO et al shows a thin film magnetic head with lower magnetic pole layer (12), a depression (16) on the upper surface of the lower pole layer, a resin (re claim 2 – see column 5 lines 8-9) non-magnetic mass (18) in the depression, and an upper magnetic pole (141,142a).

Art Unit: 2652

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

7. Claims 4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over SAITHO et al (6,597,543).

SAITHO et al discloses a thin film magnetic head substantially as claimed. SAITHO et al differs in not specifying the listed magnetic materials for the lower magnetic pole.

The Examiner takes Official Notice that these listed materials are well known and commonly used for pole layers in thin film magnetic heads.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to utilize the listed magnetic materials for the lower pole in SAITHO et al. The motivation is as follows: these are well known and commonly used for the pole layers in thin film magnetic heads. One of ordinary skill in the art would use any such known materials. The SAITHO et al disclosure is clearly not limited to the specific materials listed therein.

8. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over SAITHO et al (6,597,543) in view of KAMIJIMA (6,549,370).

SAITHO et al discloses a thin film magnetic head substantially as claimed. SAITHO et al differs in not disclosing that the non-magnetic mass is a metal.

KAMIJIMA discloses that the non-magnetic mass used to set the gap depth can be either a photoresist or a metal (see column 9 lines 6-7).

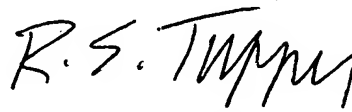

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to utilize a non-magnetic metal for the non-magnetic mass in the head of SAITHO et al. The motivation is as follows: KAMIJIMA teaches that these are equivalents.
